

COLORADO NURSES ASSOCIATION HALL OF FAME

Mary C. Walker, RN

- She completed the nursing course at the Colorado Training School at Denver General Hospital in 1931 and did graduate study in nursing education at Colorado State College and Columbia University, New York
- She was director of nursing services and the School of Nursing at Lincoln General Hospital, Nebraska
- She was assistant director of the Colorado Training School at Denver General until 1942, when she entered the army, returning in 1946 as a lieutenant colonel
- Upon her return, she was director of nursing services, Branch 13, of the Veterans Administration
- She became director of nursing services for the Red Cross before retiring in 1967
- She was CNA's president from 1948-1952, instrumental in obtaining financial support for the headquarters.
- She continued to work various CNA committees until 1990

